TOMMY ROBINSON

Tommy Robinson - Army photo and the fallout - latest Update

On army bases, you can sell drugs and sexual assault women and be forgiven – but if you have your picture taken with a journalist – someone who talks about Islam and Muslim grooming gangs – you can be discharged from the army. This is not right and the people are not going to allow this. The #StandWithOurLads petition has gone past the 140,000 signature mark.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=qTonLQgLp48>

Stop the political witch hunt against British troops!

Tommy Robinson bumped into four motor coaches of young British soldiers -- who all wanted to take a picture with him! But after the Muslim Council of the UK complained, the British Army launched an investigation into these young soldiers, and even seized their cell phones, to search for "forbidden" political ideas!

Please sign this petition to Chief of the Defence Staff, Gen. Sir Nick Carter, telling him to call off his dogs!

Imam has British soldier fired for standing with Tommy Robinson

A young British soldier was discharged for standing with Tommy Robinson in a photograph. The Islamic Council of Britain then complained to the British Army, and their "Islamic religious adviser" Imam Asim Hafiz has already spoken out against the boys being photographed. These lads are willing to make the ultimate sacrifice for our freedoms. The least we can do is stand up for their freedom, too.

Tommy Robinson, Untouchable by Bruce Bawer

Day by day, it seems, Britain is descending even further into the madness of dhimmitude. Robinson, who faces another court date and possible re-imprisonment later this month, immediately took up the cause of the fired soldier. In an October 10 video, he was eloquent in his denunciation of Army officials, noting that they show little if any appreciation for rank-and-file soldiers, that for this reason they're having a great deal of trouble these days signing up recruits, that military veterans are lying homeless in the streets of London while newly arrived Muslim immigrants are given their choice of residences at government expense, and that this episode can only lead to an enormous backlash by men and women in uniform. Indeed, Robinson said that he'd been contacted by hundreds of soldiers who share his fury over this case.

Terrorism Expert Tom Quiggin's Letter to the RCMP

The Government of Canada is now dispersing tax payers' money in situations where they are aware the ultimate use of the funds will be the direct and indirect support of terrorism. Among the intermediary agencies involved are Islamic Relief Canada and its parent organization, Islamic Relief Worldwide. The ultimate destination of a portion of the funds is Hamas, an organization listed by the Government of Canada as a terrorist entity. It is no longer an outside job; it is an inside job. This funding may constitute a criminal offence.

Canada: Islamic State jihadist caught, but police "struggle" to lay charges

A high-profile Canadian member of the so-called Islamic State has been caught while attempting to return to Canada. His capture is significant because, aside from serving as a sniper, Ali used social media to encourage others to join ISIS and conduct terrorist attacks. Ali's case has placed the government of Prime Minister Justin Trudeau in a difficult position. Kurdish officials want to hand Ali and a dozen other Canadians over to Ottawa. However, with the RCMP struggling to bring charges against Canadians who have taken part in overseas terror groups, there is no guarantee Ali would face arrest upon his return.

Justice for ISIS Terrorists? Not in the UK or Canada

The Kurds would like to send Ali, along with another dozen Canadian ISIS fighters, back to Canada. So, what's the hold up? It seems those in charge, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, are "struggling to bring terrorism charges against Canadians who have taken part in overseas terror groups," meaning, there is no guarantee Ali would face arrest upon his return to Canada.

'Irregular' migrants continue to flock into Toronto

The reputable TripAdvisor website has been inundated in the past few weeks with scathing reviews of the hotel, calling it a "zoo, filthy, noisy and dangerous" with the lobby full of loitering refugees and halls containing graffiti and garbage. One visitor from Virginia —calling the three-star hotel a “disgrace” —claimed that animal services needed to be called on the second night he was there because “some goats were being slaughtered” in the public bathrooms. The visitor said gunfire was also heard outside the hotel that same night.

Liberals' planned voter ID changes 'incredibly concerning'

Concern over possible voter fraud continues in light of the Trudeau government’s plans to weaken voter integrity measures that could make it easier for non-citizens to vote in the 2019 federal election. “Liberal election Bill C-76 will change the law so that voter registration cards are legal forms of voter ID once again,” said Conservative Sen. Linda Frum on Twitter. Being able to vote with a simple Elections Canada card could allow countless non-citizens – including asylum seekers, illegal border crossers and those whose refugee applications have been rejected – to vote in the next election.

MUSLIMS ONLY: Laura Loomer & Faith Goldy Tossed From Toronto Terror Forum

Investigative journalist Laura Loomer and Toronto Mayoral candidate Faith Goldy decided to show up and question the host groups, ICNA and terror-sponsor ISNA about their choice in speakers. Featured speakers included 1993 World Trade Centre bombing co-conspirator Imam Siraj Wahhaj and infamous jihadi sympathizer and anti-Jewish activist Linda Sarsour.

American Muslim Scholar who preached on the filth of Jews and Christians to speak at fundraising tour in Toronto

Mr. Qadhi is scheduled to speak at an Orphan Education fundraising tour on Saturday, November 24 at the Grand Cinnamon Banquet and Convention center located at 3895 McNicoll Ave, Toronto, Ontario. His topic will be 'Islam in the 21st century: A path forward'.

You may recall that "Wild Bill of America" (Bill Findlay - a committed Christian) was invited to speak in Calgary last year and was banned from entering the country. Eminent scholar on Islam, Robert Spencer, is continually hassled and kept waiting for hours at customs by border security. This past weekend another Jew hate fest with speakers Linda Sarsour, Siraj Wahhaj, Lord Nazir Ahmed, Boonaa Mohammed and Ustadh Abdel Rahman took place in Toronto. Despite petitions and letter writing campaigns to the Government to ban them, the Canadian government welcomed these anti-Semites with open arms.

Suspected British Isis fighter could face repatriation to Canada

Suspected Islamic State fighter Jack Letts – nicknamed "Jihadi Jack" by the British media – is likely to be repatriated to Canada rather than the UK, sources have told the Guardian. The 23-year-old dual national was included in a recent agreement between Ottawa and the Kurdish administration in north-eastern Syria to take home an estimated 11 Canadian citizens being held by its forces, several Kurdish and Canadian sources said.

Barbara Kay: Did #MeToo activists target a top Canadian prof for his blunt lessons about Islam?

McGill University, my grad school alma mater, has, in my opinion, acted dishonourably in a recent and unusual case of tenure denial to a brilliant and popular professor. When I learned of Ahmed Fekry Ibrahim's story, I was fortunate to receive a remarkable trove of evidence: his supporting documents for a defamation lawsuit he launched this summer against a student and a professor in his department who, he alleges, helped ensure his denial of tenure. He believes he was targeted for not being politically correct enough in teaching about Islam.

Three judges, 75 whales, 117 native bands

This fall, for the second time in two years, three judges with the Federal Court of Appeal struck down a crucially important oil export pipeline project that had been approved by Ottawa after years of regulatory review. This week the Trudeau government announced it will not appeal that ruling to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Business capital investment is crucial to the jobs of the future. In the period since the Trudeau Liberals took office, the proportion of capital investment in the economy has collapsed to a 40-year low. That was before this devastating court decision and the government's inept response. Our country's international reputation has deteriorated from a credible nation that "punches above its weight" to one governed by lightweights more fixated on political correctness than on getting their own national projects built. Canadians should be very worried.

Amazon Funding Radical Islamists in UK

Amazon is funding a radical Islamist organization as part of its charitable donations program in the UK, The Times charged. The organization was founded and is still represented by Saudi scholar Haithan al-Haddad, who believes in child marriage, female genital mutilation and stoning women to death for adultery. Al-Haddad was called "one of the most dangerous men in Britain" by the head of the Quilliam Foundation, a prominent counter-extremist organization.

French Say "Non" to Islamist Performer at Bataclan

The movement, led by the father of one of the victims of the Bataclan slaughter in 2015, proved effective: just barely a month before the scheduled event, the Bataclan and Medine announced that, in a "conciliatory spirit" and "respect" for the victims' families, the concert would not take place. While some have called the cancellation an attack on free speech, others are celebrating what they view as the correct decision. Medine will still perform, the statement read, but at an alternative venue.

Police File Assault Charges Against Father Who Defended Daughter from Migrant Sex Attack

Police in the German city of Munich have filed charges against a 42-year-old man after he punched a migrant in the face who sexually assaulted his daughter. The incident occurred at the Hackerbrücke train station and saw an intoxicated 28-year-old man from Eritrea reach under the skirt of a 21-year-old young woman and grab her buttocks. After becoming aware of the sex attack, the young woman's father punched the Eritrean in the face. While police have filed sexual harassment charges against the Eritrean migrant, they have also filed charges of bodily injury against the 42-year-old.

TURKEY

How an Extremist Government Treats Girls and Women

What is known is that child marriages, child rape, girls who become mothers although they themselves are still children, and other types of child sexual abuse are increasingly commonplace in Turkey. How many of these girls were already married when they arrived at the hospital to give birth and at what age did they get married? Or were they sexually abused out of wedlock? How many were later forced to marry their abusers? What happened to their babies? How many other children in Turkey are victims of similar abuses? It seems these questions will remain unanswered.

UNITED KINGDOM

Melanie Shaw

Melanie Shaw is a witness who reported the abuse and murder of children at Beechwood Children's' Home Nottingham. The UK Column published a good summary of Melanie Shaw's case when she was sentenced by a secret court on mysterious secret charges for 2 years in prison in January 2017, a sentence of which she spent most in criminal solitary confinement as a tool of illegal torture. The combination of humiliation, sexual humiliation, psychological and physical torture is typical of the Secret Service's psychological warfare methods.

The fact that this comes as brutal and psychopathic retaliation for Melanie Shaw's revelations of child abuse and child murder at Beechwood

Children's Home Nottingham also implies that MI5 is orchestrating these crimes against Melanie Shaw.

Justice Brett Kavanaugh

Stateswoman Susan Collins stands alone

Susan Collins would not be bullied by the tribal radical mob. She and her staff have endured weeks of the most vile, ugly, reprehensible, and despicable protests, mailings, phone calls, physical intimidation, and direct threats. Susan Collins would not be dragged into the world of medieval savagery where spectral evidence, mere innuendo, hysteria from bad dreams, and identity politics has replaced reason, logic, fairness, and objective equity.

Susan Collins will be vilified by the rabble. The rabble, unable to comprehend her monumental lessons to the nation, may frustrate her re-election chances in 2020. But the rabble can never tarnish Susan Collins's finest hour as the stateswoman who stood alone, and saved the Union, at least for a while, from a descent into totalitarian bedlam.

The Kavanaugh fight isn't over – the radical left is just getting started by Charlie Kirk

I went so far as to say it was the event people like Orwell, Huxley, and Rand had warned us about. We had to fight. We had to get him confirmed. We couldn't let a mindless automaton-like mob, led by dark anti-American forces behind a curtain, derail the Constitutional process of placing a president's pick on the Supreme Court. I said this was bigger than the Supreme Court, bigger than mid-term elections, bigger than the Trump presidency.

Canadians don't see the Kavanaugh episode for what it is by Conrad Black Canadians will eventually learn that free speech is not as much offended by calling those who accuse John A. Macdonald of genocide the "PC Brigade" as it is by calling him (and me) genocidists; that denying the right to debate to Faith Goldy is an outrage; that the Paris Climate agreement is the fraud Trump has called it, and that the carbon tax is just a sleazy attempt to raise taxes while claiming to save the Earth.

What If She Lied?

Some will inadvertently argue that all's well that ends well, that their mission failed, and Brett Kavanaugh has finally been confirmed as a Supreme Court Justice, although by the thinnest of margins, but a win is a win, right? No, wrong! If this blatant a case of injustice(s) committed is not brought in a court of law before a judge and jury, we are no longer a nation of law and order. If DOJ Jeff Sessions does not convene a grand jury to investigate this we won nothing, but rather lost our Constitutional rights of being innocent until proven guilty. Are we a country of law and order or are we not?

<https://canadafreepress.com/article/what-if-she-lied>

Winners and Losers of the Kavanaugh Confirmation

Watching Brett Kavanaugh stripped naked and publicly humiliated by the organized left and media was excruciating. The obscenity of it, the injustice. Even worse was the tightly-knotted ball of fear growing like a fascist cancer in all decent people, as we lived with the intolerable thought that this abomination might succeed, that the single most appalling act of McCarthyism of my lifetime might actually pay off. This stopped being about politics and the future of the Supreme Court and became about the fate of one man — an innocent man, a wrongfully accused man, a publicly persecuted man — which means it suddenly became the most important thing in the world.

One Battle Over But The War Has Just Begun

A wounded animal is a dangerous animal willing to take desperate measures to survive, and leftist Democrats have just experienced a substantial loss and perceive a real danger to their survivability.
