For those who read the headline in the Washington Post last Sunday that stated: “Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi, austere religious scholar at helm of Islamic State, dies at 48”, you need to be reminded of who he was.

Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi was a savage, bloodthirsty mass murderer. This barbarian burned children and captured warriors alive in cages. He drowned them and he burned them. He engaged in sex slavery and torture against innocents he kidnapped. He was a monster.

He beheaded Christians and inconvenient journalists for the cameras. He drove millions from their homes in terror, leaving, according to one wounded warrior who saw it himself - heads on pikes like some sandy Heart of Darkness. He targeted and buried women and children alive in mass graves. He destroyed treasures of antiquity like the ancient city of Palmyra.

All of humanity should be glad that Baghdadi is dead. He embodied evil, and we should not try to romanticize his crimes or offer some tedious critique of our own imperfections in seeking his end. Al Baghdadi was a common enemy of all of humanity.

He was one of the most odious beasts who's ever lived. May he burn in hell.

We remember some of the victims:

Jordanian Pilot, Muath al-Kasasbeh, burned alive January 2015

Kayla Jean Mueller, an American human rights activist and humanitarian aid worker, was captured by ISIS, tortured, abused, raped by al-Baghdadi himself, and then murdered. Her fingernails were ripped out.

She refused to renounce her Christian faith while being an ISIS captive. Died: February 2015

Yazidi Sex Slaves

Beaten and tortured by the ISIS wives, captured Yazidi women were turned into sex slaves and auctioned to the highest bidder.

<https://www.theguardian.com/commentisfree/2018/oct/06/nadia-murad-isis-sex-slave-nobel-peace-prize>

Syrian scholar, Khaled al-Asaad, 82, helped evacuate the city museum in Palmyra prior to ISIS 'takeover. He was interrogated by militants for a month but refused to lead Isis to the hidden Palmyra antiquities.
He was beheaded August 2015

David Cawthorne Haines, British aid worker.
Beheaded in early September 2014.

Alan Henning, British humanitarian aid worker.
Captured and beheaded October 2014.

Peter Edward Kassig, American aid worker.
Beheaded in November 2014

James Wright Foley
American journalist and video reporter.
Beheaded by ISIS in August 2014

Steven Joel Sotloff
American-Israeli journalist.
Beheaded by ISIS in September 2014

Hervé Gourdel, French citizen and mountaineering guide. Kidnapped and beheaded in Algeria in September 2014.

21 Christian Copts were kidnapped, beheaded and died as martyrs on 15 February 2015. Their demeanour facing death was extraordinarily peaceful. It is this evident willingness to die, with the last whisper of "O my Lord Jesus!" that has led to them being hailed as martyrs by the Coptic Church.

250 Syrian Soldiers in a mass execution in the desert, July 2014. They were defending one of the Syrian government's last military outposts in northeast Syria.

30 Ethiopian Christians were shot and beheaded in April 2015 in Libya.

Al-Baghdadi Dead, Leftists Crestfallen

Barack Obama's former Ambassador to Qatar, Dana Shell Smith, was furious – not at the man who had committed mass murder of innumerable innocent civilians, and had sanctioned the seizure of non-Muslim women and their use as sex slaves, but at the man who oversaw his killing.

Terror Threat

Always look for the country behind the curtain. Fighting Islamic terrorist groups like Al Qaeda or ISIS as if they were an isolated phenomenon is as pointless as insisting that every single Islamic terrorist is really a lone wolf. It ignores reality. Islamic terrorist groups can't be defeated without dealing with the states that sponsor them.

How Baghdadi's Death Reveals Trump's Clever Syria Strategy

The successful American operation to take out Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi is living proof of continued U.S. dominance in the Middle East when it considers its core strategic security interests to be at stake. If Putin wants to inherit the Syrian blood-stained sandbox and the headaches that go with it, that should certainly not keep us up at night.

"Well, I guess the only thing is they were talking about why didn't I give the information to Adam Schiff and his committee? And the answer is because I think Adam Schiff is the biggest leaker in Washington. You know that, I know that, we all know that," Trump told reporters on Monday.

Belgium: Brussels court orders authorities to bring back Islamic State bride and her children

Syria: Islamic State brides “unleash reign of terror,” slaughtering babies, dousing people with petrol

Islamic State jihadists are enemy combatants, brutes and abusers of the worst kind, and their brides are no better; caution should be employed in considerations of whether they should be repatriated back to the West, which they view as enemy territory, not as their “home.” Islamic State brides are, while social justice warriors fight for their return, painting them to be victims of their jihadist husbands.

University-sanctioned antisemitic Muslim voting guide gets federal funding

The "Canadian Muslim Voting Guide: Federal Election 2019" was released by the Canadian Islamophobia Industry Research Project at Wilfred Laurier University on Oct. 18, just three days before Canadians went to the polls. Research by B'nai Brith shows that the Voting Guide's lead author, Jasmine Zine, received $24,923 from the SSHRC in 2018 for a project called "Mapping the Canadian Islamophobia Industry."

Tax dollars fund "Muslim voting guide"

Your tax dollars went towards a guide telling Muslim Canadians how to vote. Specifically telling them not to vote for Conservatives, who the report maligns as peddling Islamophobia based on their positions on immigration, M-103, Israel and foreign policy more broadly. The guide was published by a Laurier University research initiative that works to support M-103, the supposedly "non-binding" Islamophobia motion passed in Parliament two years ago. True North's Andrew Lawton explains why this is so concerning.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=guos2NVCis8&feature=youtu.be>

Did the Canadian Government Try to Swing the Muslim Vote?

Islamists had a field day in the recent Canadian elections. Twelve Muslims were elected, out of which at least eight have Islamist leanings. The real losers of the Canadian elections were the Canadian people, who had to listen to the propaganda machine spew its lies about Maxime Bernier of the PPC (People's Party of Canada). Bernier was the only politician who correctly identified the menaces Canada is facing as a country — menaces which eventually will become monsters too large to ignore: globalism and Islamism. For this, Bernier was shunned as a racist and bigot by all parties right from the start. Furthermore, a PR firm was hired by the Conservative party to drive this narrative (wait for the court cases to fly).

Canada - Don't Ask Me to Take You Seriously Again

Canadian voters have ratified Justin's rule and his absurd behavior. In this age of climate hysteria, female supremacy, and cultural hypersensitivity, Canada has re-elected a man who requires not one but two campaign planes, has groped, bullied, and sidelined female press and colleagues, and who has, on at least three documented occasions, performed in blackface while deep into adulthood.

No Canada Redux: An Election Autopsy

The greatest disappointment was the showing of the newly-formed People's Party of Canada which, despite being led by the only respectable major politician in the country, Maxime Bernier, failed to elect a single candidate. The PPC suffered from lack of sufficient exposure coupled with evident disdain, courtesy of the Canadian media. Many voters had never heard of it and those who had tended to regard it as divisive or racist.

What Jane Philpott's loss tells us about the shallowness of voters

The voters of Markham-Stouffville threw away the chance to show that those not living in the Ottawa bubble have a stronger moral compass. At some point in the future, there will be scandal. A case of an elected leader or set of elected leaders exerting undue influence or skirting the rules or giving a friend an unfair break. How will a country that booted out Jane Philpott and re-elected Justin Trudeau be able to claim that it didn't tacitly give its OK to such behaviour? Any outrage or shock from the electorate will, at that time, seem awfully rich.

The Trudeau government is surveilling your social media for anti-immigrant and anti-Trudeau views

According to internal emails obtained by True North from Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada, the Trudeau government appointed a team of staffers to surveil the comments of Canadians for “bigoted” immigration criticism. Among those surveilled were Conservative Party leader Andrew Scheer, Conservative Immigration Critic Michelle Rempel, and People’s Party of Canada leader Maxime Bernier.

In one of its very first acts after the election, the Trudeau government decided to take True North to court. They are using taxpayer dollars to appeal our court victory. C3RF Update –1 November 2019

This week's update homes in on the impediments that stunted public discourse during the embarrassingly shallow Canadian federal election of 2019. How is it that the major issues of public concern were so fastidiously ignored that they were allowed to progress western and Quebec alienation to such alarming levels. Time to identify these impediments and deal with them before the country is fractured beyond repair? Is this what "free speech" is for.

THE ENVIRONMENT

Feeding the Fat Green Pigs

In the background, governments fund an academic/media industry promoting climate alarmism, energy rationing and intermittent energy. Electric cars and penny farthings were pushed off the roads by Henry Ford's petrol engines, but politicians are trying to put them back – a Tesla for the rich and a bicycle for the poor. Consumers and industry don't count and taxpayers are there to be milked. In this Greentopia no one needs miners, farmers or fishermen. All are lost for a fake global warming Emergency.

A half-century of the geography of oil

A fascinating video showing changes in world oil production by country, 1965–2018, has been created by BP and is embedded below. THE RED-GREEN AXIS

How to Bring Down the Ideology of the Left

It is time for us to take back not only our national sovereignty, but sovereignty over human nature. We must deny the Left its attempt to circumscribe, shut down, shut out, and reduce us to stereotypes. By reviving humanist respect for the dignity of every soul and the possibility of moving beyond the horizon to fresh endeavors of the mind, we will win against those on the Left who wish to confine us in an ideological coffin

Linking Incompatibles Is the Left's Stock-in-Trade

There are times when force must be fought with force if a civil democracy is to be preserved from the ideological depravity of a monocratic political power. One cannot always fight an adversary committed to violence, national upheaval, and political domination with moral indignation, intellectual lucidity, and rhetorical argument. One must also resist the tactic of false analogy adopted by the leftist mind to further its agenda of state control over all aspects of civil life.

Majority of American Jews believe “extreme right” more threatening than “extreme Islam”

When one looks for evidence about antisemitism on the “far right,” there is first of all a problem simply with defining the “far right,” as this term is routinely linked to Nazism. But Nazism was socialist Left, not right. Hitler’s National Socialist German Workers’ Party, or Nazi Party, persecuted the Jews. Hitler allied with the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem in seeking a “final solution”; today, we still see a Leftist-Islamic supremacist alliance that threatens Jews and the world at large.

Muslim Convert Goes on Stabbing Rampage in Paris Police HQ

Mikael Harpon had converted to Islam about a dozen years before the attack. But it was only during the previous four years he showed signs of radicalization. This Election is a Fight for the Soul of Democracy

It's on. At last. A General Election. The importance of this election cannot be overstated. So much hinges on it – politically, historically, even psychologically. In this election, the people have a brilliant opportunity to push back against the most dangerous and authoritarian wing of the 21st-century establishment: the Remainer elite. If we use our ballots wisely, we can seriously wound the anti-democratic elites. The great thing about this election is that it returns power to the people.

The Brexit Mess by Katie Hopkins

Asking people to vote again, after their last vote has been ignored, is asking people to invest time, faith, and energy in a process for which they have none. Just like the decent Americans I know, most are fully-loaded with everyday life: we have kids to drop at school, elderly parents to care for, jobs to maintain, a sick friend who needs a visit, a car that needs servicing and a bit of guttering that needs reattaching to the roof. Real things that need fixing for our families.

The 'Global Citizen' Fraud by Bruce Bawer

In the final analysis, global citizenship is a dangerous dream, a threat to individual liberty, and an assault on American sovereignty—a menace not only to Americans but to all humanity, and one that should therefore be rejected unambiguously by all men and women of goodwill and at least a modicum of common sense. Global citizenship is a luxury of those who've reaped rewards earned by the blood of patriots.

The "Most Colossal Crime of All Ages"

A new U.S. resolution acknowledging the Armenian Genocide has Turkey outraged. At the beginning of 1915 there were some two million Armenians within Turkey; today there are fewer than 60,000.... Despite the vast amount of evidence that points to the historical reality of the Armenian Genocide, eyewitness accounts, official archives, photographic evidence, the reports of diplomats, and the testimony of survivors, denial of the Armenian Genocide by successive regimes in Turkey has gone on from 1915 to the present.

Va, Pensiero, Or, A Night at the Opera

This decision to employ Muslims to play the role of Jews in Nabucco reeks of political correctness gone mad. Jews apparently cannot play captives in Babylon, because Jews today are, for so many brainwashed souls in Europe, not the oppressed, but the oppressors of the "poor Palestinians."

The Muslims are the "new Jews," and Europe is where they are confined and can only dream — "Va, pensiero" ("Go, thoughts") — of returning home, to such wonderful longed-for places as Syria, Iraq, Sudan, Afghanistan. The bien-pensants of Europe have everything upside down.

After the Iranian Revolution of 1980, the term "Islamophobia" "underwent a mutation that weaponized it." It continues to be more militant as it has "entered the global lexicon." Diversity Is Not a Strength

Professor Robert Putnam of Harvard wanted to prove that diversity was a strength. After keeping his findings secret for years, to his horror he found that racial diversity kills community trust. When you have to live with all sorts of people, Americans have less confidence in local government, give less to charity, have fewer friends, do less volunteer work, don't want to carpool. What do they do more of? Stay home and watch TV.

Official Government Lies

We have reached the point in history where our government is dictating the truth of Islam. The state of Washington is supporting Islam by dictating the interpretation of Islamic scriptures.
