COVID-19 UPDATES

The Permanent Emergency by Mark Steyn

Covid-19 is here to stay - like HIV. With HIV, it wasn't that difficult to avoid catching it, because it required the exchange of bodily fluids, which is a fairly intense and specific degree of intimacy. With Covid, we are rolling a protective condom down over every routine social intercourse. The new condom is the face mask. It's the Corona niqab - because my basic objection to the burqa and hijab has always been that covered citizens are not compatible with an open society. But the same state that told us a month ago that we didn't need masks and they don't protect you anyway is now dispatching its Coronagruppenführers to beat us up and handcuff us in front of our toddlers for wearing them incorrectly:

'There is nothing unprecedented about the virus itself'

In 2017, the number of people who died of malaria was 620,000. That is almost all in Africa. We totally ignore it. That's three times the number of people who've died of Covid-19 so far worldwide. But it's just ordinary. They live with it. In 2018, 1.5million people died of tuberculosis. And TB is especially dangerous because it's developing a resistance to our treatment to it. So it's actually more terrifying than Covid-19. Again, we forget about it. Typhoid, which we think of as a disease of the past, still kills up to 160,000 people a year. Cholera is the same – it kills about 140,000 people a year. Influenza, which Covid resembles in many ways, kills up to 650,000 people every year. It took me five minutes to find those statistics. Why don't I ever see them reported?

Are Endless Lockdowns the Result of Malice or Stupidity?

There is really no option, if we wish to survive and preserve our democratic liberties, but to adopt sane preventive measures, rely on herd immunity, as in Sweden, and return to our trades and professions. We must recognize malice or stupidity where we see it, whether among our partisan leaders, failing politicians, media pontiffs or medical soothsayers. The alternative does not bear thinking.

Challenging Anthony Fauci

"I don't think you are the one person who gets to make a decision. We can listen to your advice but there are people on the other side saying there's not going to be a surge and we can safely open the economy." The speaker was Sen. Rand Paul, in the hearing with the Senate Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions on Tuesday. Sen. Paul, a medical doctor, was addressing Dr. Anthony Fauci of the president's coronavirus task force. Dr. Fauci did not appreciate the challenge.

Virus used as prop to launch wave of psychological warfare & fake news against Americans

Psychological warfare has been declared against the American people over the last eight weeks, and the sooner we acknowledge that the sooner we can break through the propaganda messaging and take back our lives and our freedoms. You cannot defeat an enemy unless you know you are at war and you know who it is you are fighting.

Losing Our Fears, in War and Plague

Interest rates are low. Gas is as cheap as it's been in years. Inflation remains moribund. People are tired of being housebound. They want to get back to work to make and spend money. All that is missing is confidence -- or rather, the conviction that the coronavirus is no more dangerous than were the Axis powers and can be beaten far more quickly if we show the sort of will our grandparents had.

Bill Gates, HR 6666, Remdesivir, Deaths in Italy

"The Secretary of Health and Human Services, acting through the Director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, may award grants to eligible entities to conduct diagnostic testing for COVID-19, to trace and monitor the contacts of infected individuals, and to support the quarantine of such contacts..." Why don't they simply advertise: "Have you always wanted to run around like a little fascist, targeting the unwary, the sheep, the outliers, the rebels, the dissenters? Here's your chance. The State will pay you to do it. Who knows? Maybe the government will design a uniform for you, embroidered with the logo of a skull or a virus with spikes.”

Ten reasons to end the lockdown now

Even if you could understand why lockdown was imposed, it very rapidly became apparent that it had not been thought through. Not in terms of the wider effects on society (which have yet to be counted) and not even in terms of the ways that the virus itself might behave. But at the start, there was hardly any evidence. Everyone was guessing. Now we have a world of evidence, from around the globe, and the case for starting to reverse lockdown is compelling. Here are 10 reasons why I believe that it is wrong to continue with lockdown and why we should start to reverse it immediately and rapidly.

Fauci vs. Trump - Who's Right?

While Fauci and Redfield are specialists in epidemics, Trump's portfolio goes far beyond that. He is chief of state, head of government and commander in chief, responsible for the security and defense of the nation. His portfolio is broader and deeper than those of Fauci and Redfield. Ultimately, Fauci is not "The Decider" here. Trump is. It is he who is accountable to the nation for weighing the losses, both human and material, due to his decisions.

Fear kills

Fear kills. That's the lesson we must take from all of this. Roosevelt was right: we have nothing to fear but fear itself. Apocalypticism makes reasoned thinking more difficult, and sensible, strategic policy more unlikely. When we come out the other side of Covid-19, we need a serious reckoning with the culture of fear before it destroys any more lives.

'Social Distancing' is Snake Oil, Not Science

It's becoming more and more obvious that it's well past time to take a more tactical approach to mitigation, as Dr. Katz suggested back on March 20, allocating resources and efforts toward protecting and caring for those most at-risk, and ending this soul-crushing and economy-crashing experiment with holistic "social distancing."

I must admit I am very impressed how smart the Covid-19 virus really is... It doesn't contaminate you at Walmart, Target, Costco, Supermarkets, Lowe's, Home Depot, etc... But it sure will get your butt at the church, florist, antique shops, car dealerships, hair salons, nail salons, restaurants, bars, a 3-man crew on a remote residential construction project, and any other small business... and don't forget public land, fishing, and camping! Tricky little bugger. 😏

CANADA

Canada as Object Lesson: The End of the Lion

We are governed by an apostolic socialist whose mandate is to spend money he does not have, stifle the market economy to the point of asphyxiation, and establish alliances with dodgy syndicates and suspicious characters to further his doctrinal interests. He can be expected to plead COVID-19 for bankrupting the nation. Action4Canada points out that since taking office, "Trudeau has demonstrated an agenda in support of communist dictators...and has referred to Canada as the first 'post nation state.'" He is demonstrably pro-Chinese. He is also in close contact with UN globalists and international firms and power brokers who profit from the pandemic.

Canadian 'Anti-Hate' Activists Get Real Estate Agent Fired for Daring to Criticize 'Allahu Akbar'

Islam is a diverse religion, and many reformers have encouraged their fellow Muslims to embrace Western freedoms and reject the Islamist doctrines that inspire terrorism. However, the rush to insist that Islam has no relationship with terrorism is both naive and dangerous. At the very least, Americans and Canadians should be free to debate these issues and should not be demonized or fired for criticizing this kind of policy. Sadly, the Canadian Anti-Hate Network seems just as bent as the Southern Poverty Law Center is on silencing dissent and perpetrating a noxious “cancel culture.”

Trudeau gets away with assaults on parliamentary tradition and press freedom

Trudeau has announced more funding to state broadcaster the CBC, a bailout to the establishment newspaper chains, and perhaps most disturbingly, a government-commissioned panel recommending jaw-dropping crackdowns on press freedom. This includes the creation of a government registry for media outlets, heavy-handed new regulations governing content providers, codes of conduct, new taxes and fees, and a licensing requirement for media outlets.

Trudeau says businesses who do not fight climate change will not get new support money

In a news release titled "Prime Minister announces additional support for businesses to help save Canadian jobs," the Trudeau government outline a new four-point plan that is aimed to help businesses through the pandemic. Trudeau said that oil and gas companies will be expected to put forward a frame that shows their commitments to reducing emissions and fighting climate change to be eligible for the LEEFF. Companies which avail themselves to the LEEFF subsidies will need to make a commitment to the fight against climate change.

Who made you God: deciding who is essential? By Diane Bederman

It takes a certain kind of arrogance to suggest that wanting to go back to work is a "push to make money" over concerns about health when you are having trouble paying rent, providing food for your family and just trying not to fall into despair. But I understand it, as Miguel Almaguer, like all his compatriots in the media, ARE GETTING PAID. Ladies and gentlemen, if you are getting a pay cheque, I have no interest in your opinion regarding the opening of the country or deciding for me who is and is not essential. You're fine. Millions aren't. All the so-called political leaders – who are they to decide who is essential when they are still getting paid?

C3RF Update – 15 May 2020

This week's update continues with the analysis of recent Canadian events to ascertain the nation's position on the "democracy-despotism spectrum". This analysis includes the assessment of related trends in the movement of this position and has been joined by three noted Canadian commentators. Accordingly, the prospect of Canada becoming a dictatorial state has moved from the realm of conspiracy theory to the arena of considered, authoritative reflection. It appears that Canada might very well be "careening into the troubled waters of tyranny".

FREEDOM OF SPEECH

We need to stop the spread of Big Tech censorship

It is time to draw a line. In the fight against Covid-19, people across the world have been required to suspend many hard-won freedoms – to give up travel, loved ones, places of worship, the pub. They have gone along with it because they understand that some temporary restrictions on liberty are sometimes needed in times of crisis (even though we must ensure they do not become permanent). But one thing we cannot give an inch on is freedom of speech, our right to speak and our right to hear others, which is under serious threat right now.

Scotland's chilling new blasphemy law

The new Hate Crime Bill proposed by the Scottish Government is a sweeping threat to freedom of speech and conscience. The draft law radically expands the power of the state to punish expression and expression-adjacent behaviour, such as possession of 'inflammatory material'. It provides for the prosecution of ill-defined 'organisations' (and individuals within them) and could even see actors and directors prosecuted if a play they perform is considered to contain a hate crime.

HUNGARY

'Unlimited' Emergency Powers over Hungary

What Orbán's critics failed to mention is that Hungary, a country of just under 10 million, was ruled for over a century by the oppressive Islamic Turks and was always on the front line during the many centuries of hostility between Christian Europe and the Muslim Ottoman Empire invaders. The Hungarian Prime Minister has thus far been able to keep his country safe from Islamic terrorism compared to the United Kingdom, France and Germany, which took in large flows of illegal immigrants.

SWEDEN

Sweden Cared More About Islamophobia Than Saving Elderly in Nursing Homes From Coronavirus

Swedish authorities knew early on that it was more prevalent among certain immigrant groups and yet did nothing to protect the elderly Swedes living in care homes from a migrant care worker population. Any such steps would have been seen as Islamophobic. Sweden, like other European countries, chose political correctness over the lives of its people. And the elderly, who had given the most to their children and grandchildren, paid the price.

Illegal Migrants are the Medicine Being Imported into a Sickly Country by Katie Hopkins

The corona crisis is providing a perfect distraction from the flood of illegals into our country. Processes are put to one side, lazy media spits out Press

When the naval-gazers do look up, white nationals will be a minority in Britain. They already are in London, Luton, Leicester...this list goes on. Those complicit in our demise will deserve the horrors that brings.

UNITED STATES

A Time to Hate – This is an excellent article.

Amid my speeches and writings throughout the Wasted Obama Decade, I never published a piece aimed at bringing down Obama before his term was up. He won. Although he is despicable beyond words, the rules of our game, as set forth in our precious Constitution, made him our president. That meant Americans would die needlessly because we had a commander in chief who was a Pretender and an Incompetent. But he won fair and square.

I hate that Donald Trump never was given a chance to be President of the United States for even one day's honeymoon.

Obamagate: President Trump Goes After Obama

The Obama coup has run all these years, but it's reached the end of the line. The investigations are turning back on their instigator as Spygate and its minions gives way to Obamagate. The new phase will reach beyond the henchmen to the political operatives who were giving the orders. And to their boss. Beyond Spygate lie the Spymasters and beyond them, the Master of the Spymasters. Obama operatives committed treason for political gain. Only one man had the power to command them, to reward them, and to bring together the forces that spied on men, women, and on a nation.

Liberal Privilege in Two Tweets by Ann Coulter

Can we restrict wild generalizations about the police to things that have happened in our lifetimes? If you can produce examples of black people being billy-clubbed merely for protesting, we'd all love to see them. We're looking for something more recent than 1965. The mass delusion about "white privilege" and "systemic racism" has real-world consequences. At a BLM protest in Dallas in July 2016, a black man furious about "racist" police murdered five white policemen in cold blood, wounded seven more and held the city hostage for hours. That year, BLM-inspired activists also murdered three police officers in Baton Rouge and two in New York City.

An Invitation to Anarchy

Robert Kaplan noted in The Ends of the Earth that conflicts will be, not so much between nations, but rather between ethnic, linguistic, and religious groups. Police will be indistinguishable from armies; armies will be indistinguishable from street gangs. Nuclear weapons will be replaced by even more terrible chemical and biological weapons. In much of Africa and Asia, drought and famine will kill millions of people. Fresh water will come to be regarded, rightly, as a precious mineral. Massive airlifts of food will make little difference, and the richer nations will abandon those countries to their fate.
