“The result of a consistent and total substitution of lies for factual truth is not that the lie will now be accepted as truth and truth be defamed as a lie, but that the sense by which we take our bearings in the real world—and the category of truth versus falsehood is among the mental means to this end—is being destroyed.”

CANADA

Philip Carl Salzman: Canada Gone Wrong

The Canadian public is too blind, passive, or timid to stand up to its now authoritarian government. So, the satisfaction of feeling superior to the Americans is a pleasure lost to the past. Canada is no longer safer, nicer, and more civilized than America. Canada has gone wrong under the thrall of an authoritarian despotism, and has become a nasty, sad country.

Court of Appeal gives total vindication to Pastor Artur Pawlowski!

Some would say it's a miracle. Some would say it's simply the rule of law finally asserting itself over lawless politicians, lockdown police and health bullies. Today's unanimous ruling by Alberta's Court of Appeal is a total legal, moral and constitutional victory for Pastor Artur Pawlowski and his brother David.

Why Canada Will Become a Dictatorship Under Trudeau (written in 2014!)

Would a Prime Minister Trudeau arbitrarily whip the vote and outlaw certain moral questions? The Liberal caucus randomly learned one morning early last year that their leader had come up with a new diktat: that all Liberals would be expected, no, required, to vote pro-choice. The result is that Liberal MPs who dare question the diktat of Trudeau are being punished. Those who dare disagree have already been punished, resigned, or indicated that they won't seek another term in office -- at least not under the iron fist of Trudeau. Could Prime Minister Trudeau be trusted to make decisions for the good of the country, not just for his personal self-worth? Would Trudeau call in the police to enforce his vision? Let's hope we never have the opportunity to ask those questions.

Justin Trudeau Wants All Canadians to Surrender to The State

Today, a migrant named Saad Gaya who participant in one the most extreme terrorism plots in Canadian history is a free man-- free enough to practice law in our country. Who could ever imagine that engaging in terrorism could serve as a foundation for a lucrative law practice? Convicted murderer Omar Khadr got a green light from the Liberals for a payout of $10.5 million dollars for the murder of an American soldier.

Meanwhile, Trucker Convoy organizer Tamara Lich sits in a prison cell as we speak. How do concerned Canadians come to terms with this study in contrasts?

Chrystia Freeland Undermines Democracy as World Economic Forum Board Member

As it turns out, Justin Trudeau has cultivated one enemy above all others: his own country. With Chrystia Freeland helping our PM work a globalist agenda Canadians never asked for, the sky's the limit for a conversion to an authoritarian state. Here's a run down on Liberal Cabinet:

- Justin Trudeau, China-loving communist.
- Chrystia Freeland, WEF executive, political agitator, banned from Russia.
- Steven Guilbeault, arrested Environmental Activist.
- Ahmed Hussen, Somali citizen; former President of the Canadian Somali Congress.
- Pablo Rodriguez, Argentinian immigrant; internet censorship czar.
- Omar Alghabra, Syrian citizen, ex-President of Canadian Arab Federation.
- Jagmeet Singh (playing back-up), Khalistani separatist; banned from India.

With friends like these, who needs enemies? As it turns out, Justin Trudeau has cultivated one enemy above all others: his own country. With Chrystia Freeland helping our PM work a globalist agenda Canadians never asked for, the sky's the limit for a conversion to an authoritarian state.

Joe Rogan destroys 'creepy dictator' Justin Trudeau

Renowned podcast host Joe Rogan called Prime Minister Justin Trudeau a "creepy dictator" and said Canada is now a "communist country." Rogan's rant has now gone viral and has made headlines around the world, shedding light on Trudeau's authoritarian approach to Covid-19 and his violent crackdown of the Freedom Convoy.

Behind Ottawa's Fixation on Maintaining Mandates for Travellers

Airports around the world are congested, and Canada's are among the worst of them. Checking vaccine status and random tests are contributing to the backups, but the government won't relent. They have made mandates and restrictions a hill to die on and have dug their feet in while Canada's tourism sector pays the price. The pride of the government trumps the scientific and economic realities of pandemic restrictions.

Rex Murphy: The appealing ordinariness of Pierre Poilievre

Poilievre has the mixed gift of calling up the most — to my mind — intemperate, even furious reactions. Can this gentleman of deliberately limited flamboyance, and if not subdued then at least controlled disposition, really be — as a metropolitan sage recently opined — both “appalling” and possibly “the most dangerous politician in the country right now”?

Court ruling a death sentence for unvaccinated transplant candidate

On July 12, 2021, the Alberta’s Court of Queen’s Bench ruled that Sheila Annette Lewis cannot receive a life-saving organ transplant unless she's first injected with the Covid vaccine. In his judgment, Justice Paul Belzil asserted that Ms. Lewis is somehow not being subjected to medical coercion. This cruel judgment upholds the medical coercion to which Ms. Lewis has already suffered for more than a year. This ruling is founded on Justice Belzil’s unwillingness to actually consider, analyze, and weigh the scientific evidence which Ms. Lewis and AHS placed before the court.

Canadians’ Support for COVID-19 Mandates Plunges Despite Warnings of New Wave: Poll

If the Dutch farmers' protest was happening here, it would be an emergency

There is something happening in the Netherlands that has been happening for weeks, which if anything even closely resembling it were happening in Canada, especially in Ottawa, it would surely be called an “insurrection.”

Most of the big western news outlets have for so long been one-sided cheerleaders for the “green revolution” that they must find it awkward to give space to stories that demonstrate quite clearly that some green policies, in some very particular circumstances, are actually quite mad. That they can and do lead to considerable social unrest, economic damage and extreme upset to normal patterns of work and living. Let me put it in a nutshell: those who pass these laws do not till the soil.

Catalano Travelers: The Canadian Ruling Elite

When I survey the current roster of those who have been empowered to govern Canada, it is hard to avoid the onset of severe depression. None are serious people, none even remotely competent, all are driven by the ideological drivel of the day, and they are to a man and woman decoupled from the ordinary folk who make — or made — this country run.

FREEDOM CONVOY

Indigo won't put a book about the Freedom Convoy in stores, despite it being a bestseller

The book, The Freedom Convoy: The Inside Story of Three Weeks that Shook the World by Andrew Lawton, a journalist and broadcaster for True North, combines on-the-ground reporting with exclusive interviews with convoy organizers and volunteers to “tell the whole story” of the weeks-long protest against COVID-19 restrictions. It was published by Sutherland House. The publishing house approached Indigo before the book’s launch, as it usually does with all its books, but the company was not interested in putting it on its shelves. It would only make the book available for digital purchase on its website.

Tamara Lich's imprisonment is an affront to justice

Freedom Convoy organizer Tamara Lich remains behind bars after a justice of the peace denied her bail request after she was arrested and hauled to Ottawa for allegedly violating her bail conditions. The justice of the peace said letting her walk free would undermine public confidence in the justice system. True North's Andrew Lawton says the opposite is true.

Canadian Convoys to Rally in Support of Dutch Farmers

Canadian farmers and activists are launching convoy protests across the country on July 23 to stand in solidarity with Dutch farmers who have been protesting against their government's climate change policy since June. The fuse to the Dutch farmers' protests was laid last year, when the coalition government proposed radical plans to cut livestock numbers in the country by 30 percent to meet nitrogen greenhouse gas emissions targets.

Historic Decision Against Mandatory Vaccination by Italian Court + Covid Vaccine Risk to Human Genome Now Legally Established (Italy)

The judge put the dignity of the human being at the centre and referred twice to the period of Nazism and Fascism. Mandatory vaccination is possible if there is informed consent. For Covid injections, she explained that an informed consent is not possible as we don't know the ingredients and the mechanisms of these substances because of industrial and alleged military secret.

Robert F. Kennedy Jr. on Fauci's Admission: Mainstream Media Makes No 'Effort to Hold Him Accountable'

"It's astonishing that mainstream media allows [Fauci] to blindly make that statement without any effort to hold him accountable for the costly national policies and the lockdowns that were utterly built upon his initial assertion that the vaccines would prevent transmission and end the pandemic," Kennedy told The Epoch Times. "The national media, which was fooled by all these lies, should be surrounding NIH with pitchforks and torches. And yet it's like water on a duck," he said.

Monkeypox: The New AIDS

The world had plenty of warning to call off Pride Month due to monkeypox, but of course, the Centers for Disease Control and the prestige press did not call upon gay men to tone down their decadence because that would be stigmatizing. In contrast to canceling weddings and funerals over Covid, it's unthinkable to publicly ask gay circuit parties to cancel their 2022 saturnalias because in modern America there is nothing more hateful than causing gays to feel shame over their depravities.

Excerpt from Dr. Naomi Wolf's 'The Bodies of Others'

The real goal had nothing to do with public health. The real goal is to dissolve and destroy Western and human culture, and to replace it with a techno-fascistic culture — a culture in which we have forgotten what free human beings can do. The crime that was perpetrated during the pandemic years of 2020–22 was perhaps the greatest ever committed against humanity. And it is being perpetrated still.

THE GREAT RESET

The Hubris of the Elites and the World Economic Forum's Radical Vision to Transform Society— Jordan Schachtel

The elite ruling class is increasingly influencing media coverage and seeking to transform the way we live, argues independent journalist Jordan Schachtel. We discuss the many illogical narratives and policies that emerged around COVID-19 these last two years and the World Economic Forum's radical vision for reorienting society. "They want to take away our rights, decide what food we eat, decide where we can travel," he says.

From COVID to Global Control: bait and switch

This is a ten-thousand-year war called Freedom Versus Slavery. Like it or not, we're up to our necks in it. Let me give you that Klaus Schwab quote again.

"One new reality is global interconnectivity and the fact that all challenges must be addressed on the basis of 'togetherness.' Thus the most crucial factor in accepting the new reality and confronting its opportunities and risks is our willingness to develop shared norms on all levels."

Netherlands Partnered with WEF to Subvert Global Food Ahead of Farm Bans; Bill Gates Involved

As the country rolls out restrictions that are forcing farmers out of business, and as protests spread across Europe, the government agreement on a new food system is raising questions on whether a deeper agenda is at play.

This includes programs under the WEF's Food Innovation Hubs, an initiative of its Food Action Alliance which was set to align with the United Nations Food Systems Summit, and tied into its Agenda 2030 guidelines on Sustainable Development Goals.

CDC Directs youth to secretive chats about sexuality, sex changes, occult practices and 'finding a chosen family'

Parents beware. The American government is not only teaching children (in secret chats that they could easily access on their mobiles) about sex, gender, any kind of sexuality, and the occult, they are also being coached on how to avoid their parents and view their families as enemies when they view the Centers for Disease Control's (CDC) harmful internet chats. The platform Q Chat Space is advertised on the CDC's LGBT Health Youth Resources page. Q Chat is run in part by Planned Parenthood.

Meta admits its smart glasses have a privacy problem – but has no solutions

Other than two cameras, the glasses also contain a microphone, but none of this is readily apparent to "bystanders" – in other words, members of the public are not given proper "signals" to know somebody is wearing a pair of "smart" instead of regular sunglasses and can record them. The Meta report speaks about "human rights due diligence" and more research, framing the issue as mostly affecting vulnerable bystanders like homeless people and minorities, where in reality it affects everyone.

Twitter reverses ban of epidemiologist after legal threat

Twitter has long since banned users under its “misinformation” policy for making truthful statements – and legal challenges to this appear to be having an impact. Dr. Andrew Bostom threatened to sue Twitter after he got suspended for sharing a link to a peer-reviewed article published in a respected medical journal about a study that found that Covid vaccines lower sperm counts. On July 14, Twitter reinstated Bostom’s account.

Twitter Silences Jordan Peterson for Thought Crimes

In the offending June 22 tweet, Peterson criticized movie star Ellen Page for having her breasts removed and savaged the surgeon who chopped them off. Roughly a week later Twitter forbade him from tweeting and demanded he bow down to transgenderism and confess his thought crimes. The company, whose stock price has been collapsing, directed him to delete the following tweet if he wanted to regain his tweeting privileges:

“Remember when pride was a sin? And Ellen Page just had her breasts removed by a criminal physician.”

THE MEDIA

Wix bans site of Brazilian journalist Allan dos Santos

Wix, an Israeli company that provides a platform to create websites, has taken down two sites belonging to exiled Brazilian activist and blogger Allan dos Santos. Santos is considered a supporter of President Jair Bolsonaro, who is locked in a bitter political feud ahead of the October elections, not only with the opposition but also with the likes of the country's Supreme Federal Court Justice Alexandre de Moraes. It was Moraes who – as part of his campaign against “fake news and misinformation” – ordered Santos arrested.

The NYT puts lipstick on a pig

The New York Times now qualifies as a leading example of the Pravda progeny embedded in the U.S. media. That is what the metamorphosis of the Times into a full-blown propaganda outlet, hostile to diversity of political opinion is all about. Having succeeded in eradicating dissent in its "opinion" section, the anti-liberty New York Times can now focus on its campaign to suppress dissent across the heartland, from sea to shining sea.

THE ENVIRONMENT

Substituting real poison for fake poison

Climate change is the villain most to be feared and fought. And as this confederacy of misinformation mavens preach about the evils of what are referred to as fossil fuels, they are attempting to fast-track the world into dependency on impractical "renewable" energy that adds more toxins to the environment than decades of conventional power generation. What will it take for the rest of the West to admit the utter failure of renewables that are reliant on carbon fuel sources to operate?

Fighting back against COVID and Climate Change tyranny

Just as the tech world offers governments unprecedented power to control individuals by monitoring their every word, thought, and move, technology also can still be used to bring people across the world together in one giant, peaceful "NO!" against the gathering forces of tyranny. That's the goal of an organization called Reignite World Freedom.

The organization's mission is simple: End the globalism that is wrapping itself around the earth like a giant chain, magnifying the power of world governments stealing away their citizens' liberty. The organization hopes to have what it calls a "global walk out."

AROUND THE WORLD

UNITED KINGDOM

Tom Crowther QC, who chaired the Telford inquiry, said that 'the overwhelming theme of the evidence has been the appalling suffering of generations of children caused by the utter cruelty of those who committed child sexual exploitation'. He then went on to say that the failure of the authorities to intervene was in part driven by a nervousness that investigating concerns against Asian men, in particular, would inflame racial tensions. 'Asian' men? The members of the grooming gangs were not simply 'Asian' – by and large, they were Muslim men of Pakistani heritage.

Police in London continue to test invasive and inaccurate facial recognition

“Just two years ago in our landmark legal case, the courts agreed that this technology violates our rights and threatens our liberties. This expansion of mass surveillance tools has no place on the streets of a rights-respecting democracy,” said Liberty lawyer Megan Goulding. Goulding argued that oppressive-by-design technology can never be regulated to remove all inherent dangers that come with it, adding that “the safest, and only” way forward is to ban facial recognition.

A Chinese Intelligence Operation in America's Great Plains?

An agro-industrial plant of China's Fufeng group is in the development stages on American soil – in Grand Forks, North Dakota, to be precise. It's 13 miles from the Grand Forks Air Force Base (GFAFB) and 85 miles from the Cavalier Space Force Station. Given China's ambition to dominate the world and its ingrained culture of war by deception, it would be naïve to think the plant won't be used for espionage.

In 2020, President Trump's Secretary of State Mike Pompeo warned the National Governors Association about the CCP, saying they should "know it's working you, know it's working the team around you." He also warned of CCP's influence-building at lower levels, and urged vigilance at the local level. If he had been heeded, Fufeng would never have gotten a foothold in North Dakota.

Arabs laugh at Joe Biden's plea to pump more oil for him

After shutting down the Keystone XL pipeline and issuing 30-some regulations to halt domestic energy production, Joe Biden went to Saudi Arabia, hat in hand, to beg the Arab sheiks to pump more oil for him. Result? They laughed him out of the park. They not only rejected a proposed security alliance between the U.S., Israel, and the Saudis, likely not wanting to take orders from military geniuses like Gen. Mark Milley on matters of their own security, they also told Joe to go fly a kite on the extra oil production.

For the last seven years, the Democrat-media juggernaut's only goal has been to destroy Trump

If the media and other Democrats are eventually successful in destroying Trump, they will set their target on Ron De Santis, Sen, Tom Cotton, former Secretary of State Mike Pompeo, or whoever else is the Republican candidate. After all, they have targeted Republicans for decades, whether it was Reagan, Bush, McCain, Romney, or Trump. The only thing that mattered was infecting the U.S. with leftist politicians and policies. Power is all that mattered.

Ridiculous overkill in raid of retired Texas couple outside Capitol on January 6

The scale of forces deployed and the tactics used seem designed to intimidate and punish, especially considering the fact that the couple never entered the US Capitol on June 6, and were guilty only of being Trump supporters who were peacefully demonstrating. The couple was placed into handcuffs, taken away from their house, and questioned while their home was being searched. Kennemer said it wasn't only members of the FBI present, but ATF and SWAT, too.

Stephen Colbert's staff gets the white glove treatment from the DOJ

We know what's happened to Trump's supporters since January 6. The FBI has been doing sweeps all over the country, treating vets, grannies, politicians, businessmen, and others as if they're dangerous drug kingpins. That this is completely bogus is manifest from the fact that ordinary Americans, without the Colbert cachet, entered the Capitol at the invitation of the Capitol Police and were still harassed; prosecuted; and driven to despair, bankruptcy, imprisonment, and even suicide. (And that doesn't even count those whom the Capitol police shot or beat to death.)

Justice for All? Over 50 Attacks on Pro-Life Groups Since May, and Not a Single Arrest

On May 15, the Women's March declared: "Our Summer of Rage is officially beginning. We're prepared to rage for Roe all summer, culminating in a Women's Convention in Houston, Texas. We won't rest until abortion rights are protected." So far, the summer has seen plenty of rage: Catholic Vote reported that as of Friday, "More than 50 pregnancy resource centers and offices of pro-life groups have been attacked and vandalized," and "Pro-abortion domestic terrorists have claimed responsibility — and are promising more attacks."

Abortion and the Soul of a Nation by Daniel Greenfield

Abortion has so often been reduced to a debate between the right to life and the autonomy of the mother that we ignore the fact that what we are really seeing is a side-effect of a social breakdown. Abortion doesn't only represent the death of a child, but of a family and a future. It isn't only babies who die in abortion clinics, but the potential of two people and the soul of a nation.

Jacinda Ardern's Covid tyranny

Remember Jacinda-mania? Back when Europe and the US were first battered by the pandemic, Jacinda Ardern's New Zealand was hailed as a shining success story. Its 'Zero Covid' approach was compassionate and effective, we were told, earning Ardern admirers from around the world. Saint Jacinda's halo is now slipping. Covid is ravaging New Zealand as never before. And the sacrifices New Zealanders were forced to make – all those families torn apart, all those people plunged into poverty, all those people forced into quarantine camps – have come to nothing. Jacinda's Covid tyranny is finally unravelling – and we all need to learn the lessons of it.
