CANADA

Do You Still Believe That Canadians Have Rights and Freedoms?

The model of society that the current Canadian government policies reflect is one in which the all-knowing government dictates the rules and Canadian subjects, er, I mean citizens, are ordered to obey upon pain of severe punishment. This model doesn't seem to be so much the British model of parliamentary government as it does the Chinese model of communist party rule. Perhaps the Canadian government was impressed with the efficient way the Chinese Communist Party brutally locked down entire cities (although allowing residents to fly to other countries)?

Demographic Signs Point to Islamic Renaissance in Canada

Will the country of Canada eventually transition to North America's first Islamic-dominated nation? There was a time when a question such as this would be branded an absurdity. We speak of any point previous to PM Justin Trudeau's takeover of Canadian society

Under this scenario, the dreams of Justin Trudeau come to a climax. Add to this his sketchy Liberal Cabinet chock full of half-citizens and imported communist-sympathizers. Every bit of it spells bad news for those government has no use for-- save taxation revenues: Anglophones, Canadians of European heritage, Christians, Conservatives, Albertans, oil workers, truckers, farmers and the rest of the white working class.

Governor General's Middle East Trip Cost $1.3 Million

Invoices tabled with the House government operations and estimates committee showed that Simon's office spent around $160,000 on the trip and the RCMP spent around $155,000, while National Defence spent over $470,000 and GAC spent close to $520,000.

Liberals give CBC extra $42 million in economic update

The Liberals claim the funding is required to "offset revenue losses related to the ongoing impact of the Covid-19 pandemic." However, the CBC was already struggling well before the pandemic. Taxpayers already contribute $1.2 billion to the CBC each year. In 2021, while claiming the broadcaster was under "immense pressure" it handed out $12 million in raises and $15.4 million in bonuses to staff.

Will Trudeau come clean on $6,000 per night hotel stay?

The Canadian Taxpayers' Federation has launched with much fanfare an online petition aimed at getting the Trudeau government to 'fess up when it comes to who slept in the $6,000-a-night hotel room whilst in London to attend the funeral of Queen Elizabeth II. And it wasn't just for one night. It was for five. So, the bill for one room was $30,000, plus taxes.

More And More Canadians Are Starting To Realize How Differently Justin Trudeau Treats Quebec Than The Rest Of The Country

Quebec politicians are constantly talking about slashing immigration, and preserving Quebec culture and heritage. Not only do they talk about it, they regularly impose legislation that heavily restricts individual freedom and pushes for conformity to language and cultural norms. Yet, they are rarely denounced or criticized in the Liberal press outside Quebec. Liberal politicians like Justin Trudeau – who regularly denounce Conservative Canadians in English Canada as 'bigots' and 'racists', choose not to use those same aggressive terms to denounce what takes place in Quebec, even as Quebec politicians are far more nationalistic and authoritarian than any Canadian Conservatives.

C3RF Update, 04 Nov 2022 – Cattle drive

This week's update discusses the growing number of Canadians straying from the herd. One wonders if this is the case as more and more citizens come to question the narratives being foisted upon them or if the number of incursions on their guaranteed Charter Rights have become just too exaggerated and abundant to ignore? As the phenomenon grows, is a reckoning in the offing?

SOGI 123 Safe and Inclusive for whom?

This is Part 4 of Action4Canada's series to expose the LGBTQ sex activist's agenda to sexualize and groom children via the education system, exposing their hypocrisy and bringing into question their mantra that the SOGI/CSE program is about "creating safe and inclusive" schools.

The reality is that this program is a Trojan horse, brought into the schools under the guise of anti-bullying and supposedly to teach children to be "inclusive" and support LGBTQ2+ students. However, the SOGI 123 resource goes way beyond this and in fact indoctrinates children into unhealthy sexual behaviour and confuses them through lies and misinformation. It is only inclusive for LGBTQ2+ students and those who are agreeable with their twisted ideologies. Anyone that opposes or questions their deviant agenda is viciously attacked and persecuted.

'Tears of Thousands of Canadians on My Shoulder': Tamara Lich Gives Emotional Testimony at Emergencies Act Inquiry

"I listened to my prime minister call me a racist, and say that [people like me] shouldn't be tolerated. I found his rhetoric to be incredibly divisive," she said. "I'm a believer that if you're a leader of a country, you have to lead all of your people, even if you don't agree with them."

The Andrew Lawton Show | Trudeau thought convoy was political opportunity, not national emergency

Text messages between staffers in Justin Trudeau's and Marco Mendicino's offices reveal in the early stages of the convoy the Liberal government was focused on the convoy's "narrative" rather than any purported threat to national security. These messages were published by the Public Order Emergency Commission yesterday, and support the idea that the protest was a political opportunity and not a national emergency, True North's Andrew Lawton says. Also, convoy organizers have finally been able to tell their story.

Police Called Convoy Protest 'Calm, Festive' on Same Day Emergencies Act Was Invoked: Internal Memo

Trudeau also told the House of Commons on April 27 that "it was only after we got advice from law enforcement that we invoked the Emergencies Act." RCMP Commissioner Brenda Lucki sent an email to Mendicino's chief of staff hours before cabinet invoked the Emergencies Act saying that police had "not yet exhausted tools that are already available through the existing legislation" to clear protesters from downtown Ottawa.

Recap Day 15 of Emergencies Act hearings

Tom Marazzo took the stand. He was interested in the Convoy because he had lost his job at Georgian College in Sept 2021 due to the vaccine mandate. Marazzo said he became increasingly wary during the pandemic and that he was afraid of police for the first time despite having friends in the force. "We were desperate," says Marazzo, saying he just wanted to sit down and speak to someone in the government. "To this day, they've never spoken to us," said Marazzo.

Trudeau's crumbling case against the Freedom Convoy Pt. II (Ft. Ari Goldkind)

The Trudeau government's rationale for invoking the Emergencies Act to quash the Freedom Convoy has fallen flat on its face. Based on testimonials given at the Public Order Emergency Commission in recent weeks, it's becoming increasingly clear that the use of never-before-used act was not justified.

COVID-19 UPDATES

Democrats Declared War on Democracy Through COVID Tyranny

Some of us were sounding the alarms on COVID tyranny when it was first starting. Lockdown policies were never about saving lives but a test to see how many liberties and rights the government could take away without much pushback by the population. Fear is the main path tyrants take in trying to strip freedom from their citizens. Scare citizens enough and they will enslave themselves to whatever dictates the dear savior will come up with. The media, Big Pharma, and Big Government all worked together to destroy our freedoms and ruin the lives of many Americans.

Doctor Who Questioned COVID Response Ordered to Pay $1 Million in Legal Costs After Losing Libel Case

Dr. Kulvinder Kaur Gill, a pediatrician from Brampton Ontario who became well known for her criticism of the government's response to COVID-19, has been ordered to pay $1 million in legal costs after her libel suit was struck down earlier this year. Gill first filed the libel action in late 2020, specifying comments other doctors, professors, and journalists had made on Twitter that she said were libellous. Gill's statement of claim said, "The individual defendants, like a pack of hyenas, attempted and in fact coordinated a circling of [Gill] to literally destroy her career and reputation."

THE GREAT RESET

Enemies of Humanity

Whoever doesn't see anything wrong with scientized playing loose with human lives is on track for slavery under power-hungry authoritarians. The intelligence level of the top-ranking among them does not reach to an understanding of real people living in the real world. I refer to the multitudes who cannot get it in their heads that the likes of Bill Gates, who wants everyone in the world to be inoculated with an experimental non-vaccine with a poor safety and effectiveness score, is a friend of humanity. Or Klaus Schwab, whose desire to implant an electronic chip in every head, is about making life better for everyone. Or Anthony Fauci, who's non-stop lying about his role in the development of the Covid-19 virus goes beyond embarrassing.

How the Great Reset Is a Plot of the Ultra Wealthy: Michael Walsh – please listen - excellent

The “Great Reset” being pushed by the World Economic Forum is a tyrannical plan being advanced by the ultra-wealthy, according to Michael Walsh, and the COVID-19 pandemic is being regarded as an opportunity to implement it. The freedom of the world is at stake, and already agendas tied to it have undermined basic rights of people around the world, says Walsh, author, filmmaker, and editor of “Against the Great Reset: Eighteen Theses Contra the New World Order.” We speak with Michael Walsh about the level of influence at the World Economic Forum, what their policies are, and why he and others are taking a stance against the “Great Reset.”

MEDIA & BIG TECH

Censorship

It is usually the biggest proponents of censorship who lie the most. They are the ones who said that Covid-19 didn't come from a lab, that Hunter Biden's laptop was Russian disinformation, that Vladimir Putin rigged the 2016 election, that Donald Trump was an agent of the Kremlin, that inflation was transitory, that our border is secure, that men can become women. The people who have promoted these lies are pounding the drum for censoring so called “misinformation” on the internet while they know that their lies will never be censored.

Here's All The Left Wing Political Violence The Corporate Media Seems To Have Forgotten About

The media appears to have rediscovered political violence the morning of October 28 when news broke that House Speaker Nancy Pelosi's husband

Paul was attacked by a hammer-wielding mad man in their California home. In case they've forgotten or would rather not discuss it, here is a small slice of left-wing political violence over the years that has either been excused, dismissed or under-covered.

The People Musk Just Consulted About Fighting 'Hate'

A very bad sign. Elon Musk's purchase of Twitter has shaken the fascist Left to its core; nothing seems to be more frightening to Leftists than the prospect of free and open discourse. But the euphoria among patriots and fear and rage among Leftists may both have been premature: Musk announced early Wednesday morning that he had talked with a group of "civil society leaders" about how "Twitter will continue to combat hate & harassment & enforce its election integrity policies."

Did you even know what batteries cost for electric cars?

China produces the vast majority of the Lithium-ion batteries used in EV's and hybrids etc. In the future China could (and possibly will) use this fact as leverage against Canada (and the world, for that matter.) If Canada wants to pursue a swift migration to EV's in urban settings, then we must have the ability to make our own batteries here, rather than relying on a foreign source. This is not rocket science. And it must be addressed immediately. Otherwise, Canada should stop all EV promotion until such time as the infrastructure exists that makes the transition viable. Further, prudence dictates that we refrain from building too many charging stations, just yet.

Europeans to freeze to death this winter? Americans next?

Eschewing fossil fuels and going green may lead to frostbite induced gangrene. Or death. But, to hell with oil and coal, to hell with fracking, say no to nuclear. Moreover, some elites say that the dearth of natural gas from Russia is a great opportunity to jumpstart the switch to renewable energy such as wind and solar power. Ponder this: hundreds or thousands may have to freeze to death in order to help slow global warming. Huh?! Could there be a sadder and more preposterous statement than that?

The Global Warming Hoax

To begin with, I care deeply about the environment. We live on a beautiful planet. I want to keep it that way. But the ill-informed left-leaning socialist environmentalists are using their "Climate Change Religion" as a weapon to control the populous and redistribute wealth.

CO2 is not a pollutant; it is a rare gas required for plants to flourish and produce the oxygen we breathe. We need more CO2. The rise/decrease in the amount of CO2 in the atmosphere always lags a rise/fall in global temperature by months, sometimes years. The claims that man affects the climate are based on "political science", absolutely nothing to do with "real physical science".

Europe's Green Future Is Cold and Dark

Relying on clean energy sources such as wind and solar while ignoring energy security has proven to be disastrous for Europe. In the wake of the Russian invasion of Ukraine, European Union (EU) nations are scrambling to source fossil fuels to run their factories and heat their homes this winter. They vigorously boycotted Russian natural gas and levied sanctions, you'll recall, as a way of punishing Russia for its evil warring ways.

LGBTQ

The Real Story Behind Drag Queen Story Hour

Drag Queen Story Hour—in which performers in drag read books to kids in libraries, schools, and bookstores—has become a cultural flashpoint. The political Right has denounced these performances as sexual transgressions against children, while the political Left has defended them as an expression of LGBTQ pride. The intellectual debate has even spilled into real-world conflict: right-wing militants affiliated with the Proud Boys and the Three Percenters have staged protests against drag events for children, while their counterparts in the left-wing Antifa movement have responded with offers to serve as a protection force for the drag queens.

You just can't justify hormonal castration and genital mutilation

Studies that make the claim that hormonal and surgical castration reduces the suicide risk in patients with gender dysphoria are methodologically deeply flawed and often amount to little more than junk science. Doctors shouldn't cooperate in a patient's delusions by providing profoundly harmful and irreversible treatments and surgery, even in response to a suicide threat. Suicidal ideation is a psychiatric disorder — the body of a kid with gender dysphoria is perfectly normal. Gender dysphoria is a mental illness, not a physical illness.

Majority Polled Do Not Support Transgenderism For Minors

Pharma corporations benefit. Companies make money from licensed "rainbow flag" merchandising. Doctors are paid, surgeons make money; as do fashion and cosmetics companies. Somehow, all of this is omitted from the transgender narrative. The "human rights" element is the alpha and omega of the Trans industry. On this basis, Canadians can bet their bottom tax dollar our Liberal government will be there with rainbow-coloured bells on.

Democrats Face Crushing Defeat Even in Senate by Conrad Black

The Democrats have become so permanently intoxicated and collectively brain-damaged by Trump hate that they're a one-trick pony, and the public is jeering. The four main issues are inflation, the economy generally, crime, and the open southern border. None was a problem when Trump left office, and there's almost no mention of these problems by Democrats, nor anything visible to deal with them. On Nov. 9, the Democratic Party will be a boneyard, deservedly, and none too soon.

Election Thoughts (or hopes?)

The answers are unknown, but voting is important. A definition of madness is to expect different results by doing the same thing over and over again. Sending the governing party back would not seem wise. Among our responsibilities as citizens is to leave the Country a little better than we found it – advice largely ignored by the current batch in Washington. Winners next week could start with an olive leaf.

Biden's vengeance? True the Vote leaders thrown in jail over bizarre demand to reveal a source

The judge overseeing the case, U.S. District Judge Kenneth Hoyt, had ordered Engelbrecht and Phillips to reveal the name of a person who allegedly helped True the Vote access Konnech's computer systems.

When they declined to meet the court's 9 a.m. deadline, the judge found them in contempt. The pair have claimed, without evidence, that the person who helped them was a confidential FBI informant.

The Democrats' Insurrection Flop

It was an appropriately angry and incoherent closing argument by Biden—a failed president who helped launch the “insurrection” narrative as the chaos unfolded that day in an effort to deflect attention away from the numerous ways in which he unfairly found himself in the White House. Since then, Biden and Democrats including Elaine Luria gambled that voters would share their faux outrage over the faux insurrection, a losing bet that voters likely will settle next week. Turns out, the “Big Lie” is that January 6 ever mattered to anyone outside the Beltway.

Soldier of Allah Anniversary

The Fort Hood massacre was also the worst failure of the Federal Bureau of Investigation since 9/11, which the FBI also failed to stop. The attack could have been easily prevented, long before Hasan, an ally of the Taliban, claimed so many American lives. Like Obama, who sent planeloads of cash to Iran, Joe Biden is in effect a financier and arms supplier for terrorists. Like Obama, the Delaware Democrat ignores Islamic terrorism and targets his domestic opposition as the major threat.
